Subject: Re: Figuring out which functions and procedures get called Posted by rmoss4 on Sun, 12 Jan 2003 00:51:11 GMT

I'd suggest using idlde and choosing Run->Profile...
This will show you the amount of time spent in every user and system function or procedure in you program. It's very handy for speed optimization work.

Robert Moss, PhD
rmoss4@houston.rr.com

K Banerjee wrote: > Folks,
>
> I need to figure out which functions and procedures get called > when using a particular IDL procedure. Is there some straight > forward way to do this in IDL?
>
> I use IDl 5.3 on Linux.
>
> Thanks.
>
> K. Banerjee
>