Hello in beautiful Penobscot Valley!

I recently explored DODS - apparently there is a command line IDL client setup up and running - but I never got to try it. You probably have been already visited here
<http://www.unidata.ucar.edu/packages/dods/> At the time I looked at it (last fall) there was a decided push toward Matlab for the project I was looking at because there was no GUI (yet) for the IDL version.
I'll be interested in knowing how it works for you.

Cheers,
Ben
