IDL developers and product managers will be traveling the globe this summer to present IDL 6.0.

The IDL 6.0 World Tour will feature a series of informative seminars, each including opening remarks by Richard Cooke, the President of RSI, and technical presentations with live demos.  Come to ask questions and learn how to accelerate your data interpretation and application development with the new capabilities in IDL 6.0.

The free seminar series will be kicked off on July 29th in Boulder, Colorado, followed by meetings in several cities across the US and worldwide.
