Subject: Re: where is my plot....
Posted by mchinand on Sat, 26 Jul 2003 20:49:09 GMT

In article <54305f0c.0307261243.73bf0b2e@posting.google.com>, proxima <seanjao@yahoo.com> wrote:
> Hi there,
>
> I am using IDL 5.5a on RedHat 6.2. A simple plot like scattered points > is plotted on the xterm window. If I move another xterm window on top > of it and move the top one around like an "eraser". The plot is gone !
>
> Other case is that if this plot window is behind anther xterm window.
> After plotting it and bring the plot window forward, nothing is shown.
>
> What is wrong with it?
>

before you open a plot window, run or put in your startup file:

device, retain=2

Hope that helps,

--Mike

--
Michael Chinander
m-chinander@uchicago.edu
Department of Radiology
University of Chicago