
Subject: Re: how to do *b++=100 as in C
Posted by familyhe on Fri, 03 Oct 2003 17:59:08 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Many thanks

Marc Schellens <m_schellens@hotmail.com> wrote in message news:<3F7D4C57.1040605@hotmail.com>...

> linfanluntan wrote:

>> as title, pls

>

> In IDL a ptr is a kind of handle to some data, > it itself contains an ID number, not a memory location.

> Therefore ptr arithmetics are not possible in IDL.

>

> So you cannot do that.

>

> hdh,

> marc
