
Subject: Re: Wanted: IDLWAVE.ORG Sponsor
Posted by mvukovic on Wed, 01 Oct 2003 16:15:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

JD Smith <jdsmith@as.arizona.edu> wrote in message news:<pan.2003.09.30.22.46.21.65421.23474@as.arizona.edu>...

> IDLWAVE Users:

>

> The idlwave.org domain will expire on Nov. 14th. My previous > benefactor is unable to renew his support. I'd be pleased to offer > the sponsorship to the next caller who can afford the $8.50/yr > registration fee (2 year minimum). Ideally, it would be secured for 5 > years, so that the next maintainer (whoever that may be) will not be > burdened.

>

> With your sponsorship, you get a non-prominent oblique reference to > yourself at the bottom of the page, a signed, personalized > latest-edition copy of the IDLWAVE reference manual, free IDLWAVE > upgrades for life (OK, you already get that one), and five free "I'm > too lazy to read the manual so tell me how to do this simple IDLWAVE > task" tokens.

>

> Please contact me if interested. I can also accommodate multiple > sponsor parties.

>

> With most gracious appreciation,

>

> JD

>

> P.S. No, I'm not in need of food or other donations. It's not that I > can't afford the fees on my own; rather it's a matter of principle:
> limiting my (significant) investment to time spent.

JD,

I am willing to contribute towards for sponsorship for the next five years (at $8.50/year). I suggest that you renew it for the full five years, and let me (and whoever else decides to contribute) know for how much to send you the check. If noone else contributes, I'll cover it all (again, I am assuming a max of $42.50 for the five years).

Thanks for all the fine work.

Mirko
