With regard to my previous posting, here are some screen shots showing an object graphics application where nothing has changed except the desktop size when IDL is loaded:(single display to dual display, or 1280x1024 to 2560x1024)

The same effects are seen in the XPLOT program, for example.

I will have to reinstall version 5.4 to see if this is a new problem, but I don't remember it happening before..
