
Subject: Re: Any Planetary Maps?

Posted by agraps on Tue, 07 Mar 1995 23:46:06 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I said:

> "The Atlas of Mars is located at > <http://fi-www.arc.nasa.gov/fia/project>. This Home Page is a > WWW-browsable, zoomable, and scrollable atlas of Mars, showing the > locations (footprints) of thousands of high-resolution Viking Orbiter > images. Some special focus areas are the Gusev crater and the Mars > Pathfinder's planned landing site.

Ack! The Web site has changed slightly! Look for the new one at <http://fi-www.arc.nasa.gov/fia/projects/bayes-group/Atlas/Ma rs/>

Sorry for passing out wrong information!

Amara

--

Amara Graps email: agraps@netcom.com

Computational Physicist vita: finger agraps@sunshine.arc.nasa.gov

Intergalactic Reality bio: [finger -lm agraps@netcom.com](finger:-lm agraps@netcom.com)

"Awaken the mind without fixing it anywhere." --Kungo Kyo
