> This is a common complaint with HDF data.   How do I get at the data!?
>
> The IDL HDF_BROWSER function will let you make a template to extract all of > the data fields. The trick is that you have to explicity tell the template > to extract the data.

It's these little things that always seem to trip me up. Now that I'm able to dump my data into a structure, I'm a much happier (and less frustrated camper) than last week. Thanks!!

-Mike