
Subject: Re: need to develop interactive plot routine
Posted by [Paul Van Delst\[1\]](#) on Fri, 16 Apr 2004 20:35:43 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

picard wrote:

- > I need to develop IDL code that will bring up a plot window that can
- > be manipulated. A partial list of the manipulations that are needed
- > are:
- >
- > -changing line thickness
- > -changing the line scaling
- > -changing the scale of the x-axis or y-axes
- > -changing the titles
- >
- > Have any of you Guru's out there programmed up such a beast? Would you
- > mind sharing?

The official version is called iPlot. Comes with IDL v6.0 +.

Otherwise, there is David Fanning's MPI_PLOT:

http://www.dfanning.com/documents/programs.html#MPI_PLOT which I think does everything you asked for and is probably easier to use (I haven't used iAnything since mucking about with iSurface. Oof.)

paulv
