Cristina writes:

> I'm using the xplot3D procedure to plot a data set. There is another > 3D data set which I'd like to plot in the same coordinate system. Is > there a convenient procedure similar to the 2D oplot I might use?
> Suggestions/recommendations?

Uh, have you tried the OVERPLOT keyword? :-)

Cheers,

David

--
David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/