
Subject: Re: Expand Polar Contour

Posted by David Fanning on Wed, 07 Jul 2004 21:48:19 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Patrick writes:

> I am curious whether there is a way to expand a polar contour plot. I > have some data that is in polar coordinates that needs to be overlayed > onto a geographic map. The data must remain in polar coordinates so > that no resolution is lost. I have tried using the overplot keyword > in the call to plot_contour, but I get an error while in the > polar_contour procedure:
> Internal error: Border sort
> I am guessing this may to do with being in geographic mapping > coordinates prior to the call to plot_contour. Any suggestions?

Am I getting old, or is this article just a bit jumbled? PLOT_CONTOUR vs. POLAR_CONTOUR, polar coordinates vs. geographic mapping coordinates!?

Hard to say what is going on here. :-(

Cheers,

David

P.S. Perhaps you could "think your question a few times" before posting. :-)

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>
