
Subject: Re: virtual machine problems
Posted by savoie on Mon, 13 Sep 2004 21:36:36 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Michael,

mmiller3@iupui.edu (Michael A. Miller) writes:

> Ok, I read up on the virtual machine, which seems to be very > handy and simple to use, at least from the documentation. I made > my save file and loaded it up after running idl -vm, the widgets > appear on the screen and, ..., nothing. If I restore my save > file and run the main routine from the idl command line, it > works. If I try to run it with idl -vm or idl -rm, it appears > that no widget events are processed. Or maybe none are > generated? Or something is blocking events but I can't figure > out what? Can anyone suggest a way to debug this? I'm using IDL > Version 6.0 (linux x86 m32).

It looks like you are on the right track. Try this link. The thread there explains the blocking/no blocking issues when running in the VM or with idlruntime.

<http://tinyurl.com/4ynrt>

Matt

--
Matthew Savoie - Scientific Programmer
National Snow and Ice Data Center
(303) 735-0785 <http://nsidc.org>