
Subject: Re: Problems when printing ps plots from C
Posted by jicicuenandez on Thu, 02 Dec 2004 18:39:22 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

David Fanning <davidf@dfanning.com> wrote in message news:<MPG.1c18bf681ea8afd0989891@news.frii.com>...

> Juan I. Cicuenandez writes:

>

>> I am using callable IDL from C without any graphical window and I >> found problems when trying to output the plot in postscript format (I >> am use object graphics) to create the plot. So far, I get a plot with >> the correct axis, polylines but all the fonts are missing. I also try >> to change the IDLgrFonts from Helvetica to one of the vector fonts but >> in this case nothing is drawn. I am using a IDLgrClipboard object to >> convert the IDLgrView object into a postscript file.

>>

>> Has anyone bumped into a similar problem? Any ideas?

>

> Yes, but IDL 6.1.1 cleared it up. What version are you > using?

>

> Cheers,

>

> David

Ok, I am using IDL 6.0. Any workaround?

Cheers,

Juan
