Perhaps I'm missing it in the manuals, but i can't seem to see a way of changing the graphic used for the iconified windows under X (running under SunOS). My application has lots of windows and it's necessary to iconify them from time to time to stop the display becoming too cluttered. Unfortunately, they then all have the same icon look and it's hard to see which is which (the method X11 uses to truncate the names doesn't help.)

Is there a way in IDL to attach a bitmap to a window for it's icon?

Thanks

Tim
