Karsten Rodenacker writes:

> I have a small problem to draw in xroi a box if the image is large and > hence displayed with scroll bars. Is there any knowledge how to draw the > box into the image not displayed?

I haven't really looked at the XROI code, but I suspect it will have to be modified so that in the section dealing with MOTION events associated with drawing the rubberband box you are also looking to see if the viewport needs to be moved. No time this morning to check to see if this is easy or extremely hard. XROI has never really been my favorite example of well-written IDL code. :-)

Cheers,

David

--
David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/