

---

Posted by urkhaa on Tue, 22 Mar 2005 14:50:05 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I found somewhere in the literature that a good method for data-detrending is the use of a "à trous algorithm" using wavelet transform. In particular a good choice of wavelet transform is the B3-spline mother wavelet (or at least this is what I found).

Does anyone of you have implemented this method on IDL.

I'm not able to find anywhere any suggestion or piece of code available

thanks for all the suggestions

n

---