Hi Group,

I've emailed RSI asking this, but while I wait for an answer I wonder if anyone else here can provide one.

The top line in an IDL demo code says this:

```
; Copyright (c) 1997-2002, Research Systems, Inc. All rights reserved.
;   Unauthorized reproduction prohibited.

So my question is: What limitations must I obey with this software?

If I copy the demo to a new location on my hard disk to study it, is that unauthorized reproduction?

If I copy it and modify it, is that allowed?

If I use the modified demo in presentations internally? At conferences?

I'm not planning on selling the software.

What license do the demos come under?

Thanks,

-k.
