Subject: Re: Run-time Question Posted by R.G. Stockwell on Wed, 13 Apr 2005 20:26:54 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

- "David Fanning" <davidf@dfanning.com> wrote in message
- > news:MPG.1cc5c9d5582d5eec9899bf@news.frii.com...
- >> Folks,

>>

>> I have a run-time question.

>>

- >> I have a run-time program that uses a DLL. I have the DLL
- >> and DLM in IDL6.1/bin/bin.x86. No problem running on my
- >> machine with the VM. Now we want to export it to a client
- >> machine, where they can run it with the VM. Where are we
- >> suppose to put the DLL and DLM files now?

>>

>> Thanks,

>>

>> David

>>

>> --

- >> David Fanning, Ph.D.
- >> Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
- >> Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/

I have installed sav files on client's computers, and just put the dlls in the same folder with no problems (i.e "current directory".) It worked so I didn't look into it any further.

Cheers, bob