Subject: Re: CALL_EXTERNAL in idl virtual machine Posted by Haje Korth on Wed, 01 Jun 2005 12:26:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hm, I thought we discussed this before and came to the conclusion that call_externals are allowed in the VM. Have you isolated the violating call? Are you sure it is the call external statement?

Haje

"Georg Wiora" <xorx@quarkbox.de> wrote in message news:opsronwbpw2yxjyx@news.daimlerchrysler.com... > Hi everybody! > > I tried to use CALL_EXTERNAL in an application that should run without a > license in IDL-virtual machine. When running the program I get an error > that "EXECUTE" is disabled in IDL-VM. The point is that there is no > place where I call execute. Only CALL_EXTERNAL is used to call functions > in a (WINDOWS-)DLL. The documentation didn't say anything (at least to me) about a license limitation for CALL EXTERNAL. > Any idea how to solve this problem? By the way: I can't change the DLL since I dont have the sources. > Thanks for any advice, > > Georg

> I'm not a signature, I'm only cleaning here