Subject: Re: CW_DEFROI (some help for dumb person doing first widget prog...) Posted by David Fanning on Sat, 16 Jul 2005 06:30:21 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Peter Clinch writes:

- > Next up, in my event handler for the menu option that will activate the
- > ROI selection, I start with
- > wDraw=widget info(event.top, find by uname="Draw")
- > CentreROI=CW DEFROI(wDraw)

>

- > that creates the relevant ROI widget, and the cursor position is updated
- > when the mouse is over the image, but it doesn't appear to draw anything
- > on the image. Can anyone one tell me exactly how I'm being Dumb here?

You passed CW_DEFROI the draw widget identifier. It needs the graphics window index number, which is the VALUE of the draw widget (after it has been realized).

```
wDraw=widget info(event.top, find by uname="Draw")
Widget_Control, wDraw, Get_Value=windex
WSet, windex
CentreROI=CW_DEFROI(windex)
```

Cheers,

David

David Fanning, Ph.D. Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/