
Subject: Displaying 2D arrays

Posted by ntigris@gmail.com on Tue, 26 Jul 2005 22:48:21 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hello,

I have a 2D array filled with 0's and 1's. How do i display it so that there is simply a dot for each

1? It should look exactly like an 'image' of a 2D array, but also should have axes and gridlines.

Is that possible?

I tried image_cont, but then I don't know how to get rid of the contour...

Thanks a lot!
