
Subject: Re: Overlaying gridded winds on satellite data
Posted by Mark Hadfield on Thu, 21 Jul 2005 23:00:12 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

R.G. Stockwell wrote: [quoting selectively]
> Having said that, I do recognize that "an eastward wind"
> often means that it is an easterly wind.

Thanks for clearing that up, Bob.

--

Mark Hadfield "Kei puwaha te tai nei, Hoesa tahi tatou"
m.hadfield@niwa.co.nz
National Institute for Water and Atmospheric Research (NIWA)
