A quick and dirty way is to write the images out as gif files and then use one of the gif_> mpeg tools that are floating around.
But I'm sure somebody must have written a PV-WAVE/IDL MPEG routine somewhere :)

Tim

Konrad Heuer (kheuer@gwdu19.gwdg.de) wrote:
: I've calculated a sequence of images with PV-WAVE. It's fine to : generate an animation with the MOVIE procedure, but now I must
: build an MPEG file to write the animation on a video tape with
: some kind of hardware we have.

: Does anybody know about the best way to create an MPEG file
: from PV-WAVE byte arrays?

: Thanks,
: Konrad Heuer.