

---

Subject: Re: How to plot multiple charts and ho to round float to specific precision?

Posted by Ben Panter on Wed, 27 Jul 2005 20:54:37 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Paul Van Delst wrote:

> Ben Panter wrote:

>

>> liko2@o2.pl wrote:

>

>>> 2. How to round float eg. 23,45654 to 23,46?

>

>>

>> I think you mean 23.45654 to 23.46?

>

>

> Totally off-topic with apologies in advance, but I'm feeling a bit slow > today...

Midweek blues. It hits us all...

> I believe in some European countries the decimal point character is ","

> I think the 1000's separator is "." as well (but not sure). So > 20.364,475936 in these cases is equivalent to the US 20,364.475936.

Certainly right here in Germany - coming from the UK, commas for dots confused me for a while! I should have been a little softer in my reply

- I was trying to say "if this is what you mean I have an answer, if it's not you're still stuck".

As far as I know the IDL syntax is always . to seperate the whole numbers from the bits of numbers - is there a way to write location specific code?

Ben

---