

---

Subject: Re: Changes in widget behavior/appearance under IDL 4.0

Posted by kotsines on Wed, 14 Jun 1995 07:00:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

In article <3rmqfv$jsj@reznor.larc.nasa.gov>,
Joseph M Zawodny <zawodny@arbd0.larc.nasa.gov> wrote:

>
> Looking at things a bit more, I notice that one of my widgets is running > much slower (a factor of 2 or more) and is now flickering. I traced this > "problem" to a point in the program where I am plotting calculations on the > fly and displaying some updated information in a WIDGET_TEXT field. It > appears that the formerly smooth operation of the following line under IDL > V3.6.1 has been changed in some way under V4.0.
>
> widget_control,wids(2),set_value=curtim
>

Your problems are shared by many, I think. We were speaking of these type of problems earlier in the thread 'widget convulsions'. I can verify that I have these exact same problems as you now that we've upgraded to 4.0. We are on a HPUX / X11 system.

-tk
tomk@cmdl.noaa.gov

---