
Subject: Re: CURSOR problems

Posted by Kenneth P. Bowman on Wed, 24 Aug 2005 02:07:33 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

In article <Pine.OSX.4.61.0508232044150.9617@gouda.local>,
Ken Mankoff <mankoff@gmail.com> wrote:

> OK, I'm thinking of making the switch. Everything works well so far.
> But I figure I might as well go all the way, and switch from the X > emacs (mine is installed via fink) to the Aqua Emacs.app. Emacs.app > runs IDLWAVE fine, but not IDLWAVE help because I can't get it > running w3m. Googling for emacs.app and w3m turns up suprisingly > few results. Any suggestions?

Sorry, I'm not an emacs user. I prefer my editor to be less complicated than my operating system. ;-) But then, I don't mind using the PDF help files.

I'm happy with a simple editor. I like BBEdit. You can download the free version, TextWrangler, from barebones.com.

Ken B.
