> You need to "redirect output". Syntax varies slightly depending on which shell > you are running. In csh (and tcsh) I do something like this > idl >>& my_idl_log

Unfortunately this doesn't help, because IDL opens a _window_, that needs to be clicked at. I can redirect my stdout and stderr where ever I want, but it doesn't make any difference. It is an IDL problem, not a shell script problem, I sincerly believe.

regards,
Otto Hyvärinen