
Subject: Re: Zooming in place

Posted by David Fanning on Mon, 31 Oct 2005 18:09:21 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Pravish writes:

> I also see what you mean by the biggest challenge. I have to map > device coords to the image .It seems somewhat intimidating!!

Well, it doesn't have to be intimidating. All you need is the appropriate image coordinate system, which you could get in the most trivial case by drawing a set of axes around the image. A task that is made trivial, by the way, by most of the substitute TV commands available on the Internet. Once the data coordinate system is established, conversion is quick and easy with CONVERT_COORD.

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>
