Hi,

Zooming in place is one feature that does not seem to be popular with IDL users. It is really strange that we are satisfied with the zoomed image being in another window. That does not allow us to work with the zoomed image. We can just view at the zoom image. I would like to zoom on an image, in place and not in a separate window, and then work on this image and if need be, zoom back. But, I am using a draw widget to work with the image. That might seem to make things more complex.

I have seen David's Zimage program and I think I could play around with it and with some modifications, I will be able to use it.

Any thoughts on this one?

Thanks,
Pravesh
