
Subject: Re: Zooming in place

Posted by Antonio Santiago on Fri, 04 Nov 2005 14:36:45 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

pravesh.subramanian@gmail.com wrote:

> Hi,
>
> Zooming in place is one feature that does not seem to be popular with > IDL users. It is really strange that we are satisfied with the zoomed > image being in another window. That does not allow us to work with the > zoomed image. We can just view at the zoom image. I would like to zoom > on an image, in place and not in a separate window, and then work on > this image and if need be, zoom back. But, I am using a draw widget to > work with the image. That might seem to make things more complex.
>
> I have seen David's Zimage program and I think I could play around with > it and with some modifications, I will be able to use it.
>
> Any thoughts on this one?
>
> Thanks,
> Pravesh
>

Sorry, I haven't read the entery thread and perhaps this answer has been answered previous.

Why not implementing zooming in place with object graphics. Now (at work) we are developing an aplication to show topography and some meteorological information as 2D but implemented with object grpahics. Things like zooming in place and space coordenates are relatively simple with them.

Bye.

--

Antonio Santiago Piñeres
(email: santiago@grahi.upc.edu)
(www: <http://www.grahi.upc.edu/santiago>)
(www: <http://asantiago.blogspot.org>)

GRAHI - Grup de Recerca Aplicada en Hidrometeorologia
Universitat Politècnica de Catalunya
