Mac Users,

Just one more Mac question. My student is using BBEdit from BareBones Software as her editor. OK editor, but when we select the "go to line number" feature it apparently puts us at the line number and then makes the cursor disappear. This just can't be the expected behavior of this editor! Any ideas on what we can do to fix this problem? It is hard to fix errors in programs when you have to search your entire program for the error! :-(

Cheers,

David
