Sheldon writes:

> A friend, Peter Albert, whose work I am continuing, informed me that > the images I am trying to warp with map_image will not work. This is > due to the fact that they are simple arrays and not georegistered data.
> Nevertheless, you have again added to my knowledge in this area. I am > now working on creating lat and lon files for my arrays. There is a > another program - a hybrid of Liam's and some other expert's - that > will take these lat and lon vector files and do the warping. The beat > goes on....

You can see how I create lat/lon vectors for 2D arrays I wish to display on a map projection here:

    http://www.dfanning.com/graphics_tips/toms_tutorial.html

Cheers,

David

--
David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/