Subject: 3D segmentation of MRIs
Posted by glenn on Wed, 26 Jul 1995 07:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

We have associated a set of axial images into idl from a 3D-MRI data set from the lower leg. We would like to calculate muscle volume from the serial images. Does anybody know of an IDL routine that will do 3D segmentation. Any help would be greatly appreciated.

      -Glenn

Glenn Walter | e-mail: glenn@ginger.mmrrcc.upenn.edu
MMRRCC | FAX: (215) 573-2113
Department of Radiology |
University of Pennsylvania |