
Subject: Re: Saving the IDL terminal datastream

Posted by peter.albert@gmx.de on Fri, 28 Apr 2006 08:36:27 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi Sheldon,

the JOURNAL command is your friend. Typed once, it saves STDIN and STDOUT in a file named idlsave.pro, typed a second time, IDL stops logging. You can also provide a filename as parameter to JOURNAL.

Cheers,

Peter
