Thanks for your quick answer, David. As I am not an IDL expert I am not quite sure what that means, though :-/
In my program I try to use the draw widgets immediately after realizing the GUI (main program). That is the part that is obviously the problem, because I don't get that error message after ommiting these lines.
How can I circumvent this? I already tried to put all this into another sub-routine, but without success.

Thanks, Michael

ps.: Your great IDL page has given me valuable IDL programming tips countless times, thanks for that :-)
