
Subject: Re: GDL and plplot in FC5

Posted by George N. White III on Wed, 24 May 2006 21:04:02 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Wed, 24 May 2006, Andres wrote:

>
> Hello,
>
> I would like to install GDL in a Fedora Core 5 machine. I have a > lot of IDL routines I would like to rescue, and of course zero $$ to > buy IDL.
>
> I got the gdl code, gsl, and pplot (5.6.0), but even after installing > them, the ./configure program can't find the plsexit function of plplot
>
> checking for plsexit in -lplplotcxxd... no
>
> Error! plplot library is required but was not found
> Use --with-plplot=DIR to specify the plplot directory tree
>
> But even adding the path, the error is the same
>
> [root@chiloe gdl-0.9pre]# locate plplot
> /usr/lib/libplplotcxxd.so.9
> /usr/lib/libplplotcxxd.so.9.2.0
> /usr/lib/plplot5.6.0
>
> Could you tell me where is the problem?

How did you install plplot (src, rpm, ...)? If you install from rpm, you also need plplot-devel to build apps that use the library.

--

George N. White III <aa056@chebucto.ns.ca>
