
Subject: Re: Multiple Spawn Commands

Posted by peter.albert@gmx.de on Thu, 20 Jul 2006 06:59:18 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The one-line-limitation can be avoided if you put all your commands in an `_executable_` batch file and call this file using SPWAN.

Regards,

Peter

tianyf@gmail.com schrieb:

> It seems that IDL SPAWN evokes a new SHELL and only executes one line > of comand each time, even when you write all the commands to a temp > batch file and execute it. You can put all the commands in one line > (seperated by &&) and execute it. Also, maybe you can use IDL's CD > procedure to change the working directory.
>
