Hello,

Does any know how to perform an IDL program interactively like IRAF interactive mode on?

My program plots several different things per one image.

Let's say I have five original images to work on and want to plot things after some calculation done by the program using each individual image out of five.

If I want to do this rather interactively one by one looking at the images that I'm getting, do you have any suggestions to do that?

Thanks.
