
Subject: Re: Movie replacement
Posted by David Fanning on Fri, 18 Aug 2006 13:59:11 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Jo Klein writes:

- > Does anyone know a good replacement for the old MOVIE procedure? I find
- > XINTERANIMATE quite tedious to use at the command line, it just takes
- > too many lines of code to loop through a volume, and it seems a bit of
- > overkill if you just want a quick look at a volume of data.

Humm. And you are opposed to, say, two minutes of programming!?

I guess you could always try XMOVIE if you are wedded to someone else's solution:

<http://www.dfanning.com/programs/xmovie.pro>

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>
