The VOXEL_PROJ routine should be capable of doing this.

Robert M. Moss, Ph.D.
Texaco Inc.
mossrm@texaco.com

This is not necessarily the opinion of Texaco Inc.

In article <44bl6f$20n@usenet.INS.CWRU.Edu>, miller@amber.uh.cwru.edu (David A. Miller) writes:
|> Does anyone know of a routine in IDL that will allow the user to do a maximum intensity projection of a
|> 3-D data set? I have not been able to find anything using IDL help, although I may not be looking for the |> right routine name. Any insight in this area would be greatly appreciated.
|>
|> Thanks in advance,
|>
|> Dave Miller
|>