

---

Subject: Re: objects, crashes, and negative memory oh my Posted by news.qwest.net on Fri, 01 Dec 2006 20:56:56 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

"Pete Warner" <warner.pete@yahoo.com> wrote in message news:1164983221.424081.106940@f1g2000cwa.googlegroups.com...
> I guess I've been thinking about asking for an upgrade. Maybe I already > got it. Anybody know if Windows Vista can address 16 exabytes or will I > need Linux for that?

Has mankind even measured 16 exabytes of data in all of human history?
I wonder what the spectrum of that looks like?

---