
Subject: Re: A Programmer's Education
Posted by btt on Tue, 05 Dec 2006 20:57:40 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

David Fanning wrote:

>> Braedley writes:

>

>>> Why don't I ever see these simple solutions?

>

>> You are probably University-educated. Not your fault. :-)

>

> While we are on this topic (and while I wait for SOLARSOFT > to finish downloading), what is the most useful class you > ever took in school?

>

Hi,

I once took a great programming course that has since led to years of fruitful employment. The course outline was very well planned and the instructor not only knew the stuff but relished sharing it with others.

The instructor also read poetry and told mythic stories in class.

Cheers,
Ben
