Subject: Re: IDL 6.3 Directory Change? Posted by Braedley on Wed, 06 Dec 2006 14:49:18 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

David Fanning wrote:

> Folks,

>

- > I've recently had to upgrade to IDL 6.3 (I wanted to be
- > able to read Ronn Kling's Christmas card!). But in reading
- > it, I've noticed strange behavior for the second time. Is
- > this something new? Here is the situation.

>

- > 1. I install an IDL program that requires several files
- > all in the same folder. I create a new folder in my
- > working IDL folder for the files.

>

- > 2. I change directories to the new folder inside of IDL
- > with the CD command.

>

- > 3. I try to run the program. It can't find some of the files
- > that are in the current directory! :-(

>

- > This has GOT to be new behavior! How can it NOT find those
- > files? I have to put the directory on my path before I can
- > run the program. Surely this can't be right!?

>

> Anyone have any ideas?

>

> Cheers,

>

> David

> --

- > David Fanning, Ph.D.
- > Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
- > Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/
- > Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

I had a similar problem with v6.2 (I think it works properly, if somewhat slowly). I just opened the project and compiled everything from there. It ran fine after that.

Cheers, Braedley