Subject: Re: Image segmentation programs in IDL?
Posted by David Fanning on Thu, 14 Dec 2006 14:41:24 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Tim writes:

> I think my IDL skills are up to the challenge of calculating the > moments, once I learn to identify which black grid points are in which > object.

LABEL_REGION is definitely the place to start. Be aware, though, that it has problems on the boundary. Normally, the image is embedded in a blank image so that there is a blank boundary of one pixel along all edges.

Cheers,

David
--
David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/
Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")