Subject: Re: IDLWAVE (Mac) launching IDL as PPC rather than Intel Posted by henrygroe on Fri, 08 Dec 2006 20:52:06 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Anthony wrote:

- > I have IDL 6.3 running on an Intel Mac. From the command line, it
- > launches as a native Intel application. But from IDLWAVE it launches
- > as a Power PC (ppc) application, which makes it much slower. (emacs
- > itself is running as an Intel application.)

Kludgey idea:

Remove:

/Applications/rsi/idl/bin/bin.darwin.ppc and create a soft link from /Applications/rsi/idl/bin/bin.darwin.ppc

/Applications/rsi/idl/bin/bin.darwin.i386

There may be reasons this is a bad idea.