My office window looks out onto the neighborhood streets, which are a TERRIBLE mess. About every 10 minutes a neighbor comes by and gets stuck in the slop. I run out with a cup of hot chocolate and a shovel to join all the other neighbors in pushing the car out of the mess. I've never met so many neighbors in my life!

Great fun, but between disasters, I work on this terribly vexing problem. I think I'm making a *bit* of progress today. :-)

Cheers,

David
