
Subject: Re: Image segmentation programs in IDL?
Posted by [Anne\[1\]](#) on Thu, 21 Dec 2006 13:45:49 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi Tim,
I agree that label regions is probably going to work. The boundary conditions should be fairly easy to cope with. On first look I would just create 2 extra copies of the image using the shift command (x and y direction) and repeat the label regions command. Objects that have wrapped around will be recombined in the shifted image and it should be straight forward to identify these.

Anne Martel
Imaging Research
Medical Biophysics
University of Toronto
