

---

Subject: Re: Array with mixing data types
Posted by btt on Fri, 05 Jan 2007 13:29:35 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Julio wrote:

- > Hi,
- >
- > I have a simple question. I'm using the WRITE_SYLK function to export
- > an array. The array was built using STRARR function, but I put some
- > float numbers inside it.
- >
- > When I open the *.slk file the float numbers are shown as strings and I
- > need to use an excel command to convert into numbers.
- >
- > How can I do to make an array with different data types?

Hello,

If you can do without SYLK format you could write a comma separated file. These can be read by most spreadsheets. See http://dfanning.com/tips/csv\_file.html from David Fanning's gold mine.

Ben

---