
Subject: Re: Array with mixing data types

Posted by David Fanning on Fri, 05 Jan 2007 05:14:46 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Julio writes:

- > I have a simple question. I'm using the WRITE_SYLK function to export
- > an array. The array was built using STRARR function, but I put some
- > float numbers inside it.
- >
- > When I open the *.slk file the float numbers are shown as strings and I
- > need to use an excel command to convert into numbers.
- >
- > How can I do to make an array with different data types?

Lisp, probably. Certainly not in IDL. :-)

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>

Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")
